

Understanding Wall Street

*How to Invest Wisely and Avoid Securities Fraud
With Financial Attorney JENICE MALECKI

With all the ups and downs on Wall Street these days, there's great potential to make money — and great potential to lose it if you don't know what you're doing. Come join financial attorney Jenice Malecki for a practical, straightforward course on protecting your rights as an investor and avoiding rip-offs from unscrupulous advisors and practices.

In easy-to-understand language, Jenice will simplify the complexities of the financial world. Whether you're already an investor or ready to enter the market, you'll learn:

- What to look for in routine opening documents
- Issues of investor suitability
- Laws designed to protect investors
- Administrative and self-regulatory agencies that provide information on brokers and brokerage firms
- Questions to ask your broker
- Where to go if you've been the victim of fraud
- How to avoid unlawful practices.

Investing is a great way to secure your future — just make sure you know how to protect yourself!

When: Wednesday, June 21
Time: 6:30-9:30pm
Where: Manhattan
Cost: $29-$49

Jenice L. Malecki, Esq., a lawyer practicing in the area of financial services, represents industry professionals and public investors in the securities and commodities industry. Her practice encompasses securities, commodities, commercial, technology and employment issues.

The Learning
Annex

Register online: www.learningannex.com or by phone: 212.371.0280 x0853